Cassata is going to be a happy soldier as soon as the mails bring to him in Germany a long letter whitten to him June 21 by a SUN Tobacco The fund published his letter immediately after receiving from overseas addresses. The contributor's letter said this about it:

"This morning's letter from George J. Cassata was especially appealing, inasmuch as he has no relatives or friends I wrote him a cheery seven page letter telling him all the news of the States telling him all the news of the States and inclosed a few good jokes I had all started by The Sun Tobacco Fund. That fund has our thanks and the thanks names you gave me on Thursday I have also taken, and I myself wrote to two of the boys, and my friends have written to the others.

Wounded Man's Address Missing.

A correspondent from Brooklyn asks who wrote to a donor of the fund from a French hospital, where he was an in-mate, saying that he had been wounded and gassed and had a pretty miserable time, but that "he was never too sick to enjoy a SUN fund smoke." This letter was shown to the fund by the contributor, Miss Ford, and after extracts had bee made from it the letter was returned to her. THE SUN Tobacco Fund is regret-fully unable to comply with this corre-ondent's request. There has never been a doubt in the ind of the smoke fund that its donors gladly complied with the requests made by various soldiers from time to time for letters from this country. The sym-pathy existing between the fighting men and the donors of this fund has been close and warm, but as was perhaps natural after the signing of the armistice and the gradual return of the soldiers to this country their need for letters, &c., did not seem so urgent, and its is human nature to put off doing the thing that im't essential at the moment.

These excuses would not appeal to the lonesome soldier in Germany no

MRS. W. P. DRAPER IS DEAD IN ROME LIKE A FAILURE Widow of Ex - Ambassador Noted for Beauty.

Rome, June 23.—Mra. William F. Draper, widow of the former American Ambassador to Italy, died at a hotel here yesterday. Her daughter, the Princess Boncampagni, was at her bedside. The funeral will be held at the American church Tuesday.

The body of Mrs. Draper will be transported to the United States. The interment will be at Hopedale, Mass.

Two decades ago Mrs. Draper was one of the most talked of women on two continents. Her beauty and her jewels made her one of the prominent figures at the Italian court during her husband's mission in Rome. Before her marriage she was Miss Susan Christie Pression of Levington Kr. 2 durantee Preston of Lexington, Ky., a daughter of the late Gen. William Preston of that city, who was Minister to Spain during President Buchanan's administration. Mrs. Draper was related to the Clay, Carlisle, Breckinbridge and other Ken-tucky families. She was educated at the Convent of the Sacred Heart in Paris. She fre-quently spent her summers at Eastern watering places and met Gen. Draper at Narragansett Pier in 1889. They were at Narragansett Pier in 1889. They were married May 22, 1890, in the family mansion at Lexington. She and her husband almost immediately went abroad, where they spent the summer. On their return they occupied Gen. Draper's remodelled residence at Hopedale, Mass. After he was elected to Congress in 1892 she became one of the popular hostsess. popular hostesses in Washington so-clety. She spent much of her time in Rome after her husband's death and her daughter's marriage.
